III. METHOD OF AWARD. The award of the contract shall be made in writing to the lowest responsive, responsible offeror whose offer is deemed by the Department to be in the best interest of the Department and in compliance with HRS 103D-410. The Department shall add the “energy efficiency through life cycle costing” (the total cost of fuel for the approximate life of the vehicle based on the current Federal EPA Gas Mileage Gas Guide) to determine the lowest Offer price for the vehicle(s) as defined below:

- A. Definitions to the formula to compute the total evaluated bid price (total bid price of the vehicle plus the total cost of fuel) as listed in the offer page.
  - 1. “Total Evaluated Bid Price” is the total of fuel for the approximate life of the vehicle, which shall be added to the total bid price of the vehicle, solely for the purpose of determining the lowest responsible Offeror.
  - 2. The 100,000 miles is the estimated total city miles to be derived for the approximate useful life of the vehicle(s).
  - 3. The $3.00 represents the approximate price per gallon unleaded gasoline, which the Department is paying for fuel at the present time.
  - 4. The “Federal City Driving EPA MPG” shall be the EPA rating published by the U. S. Department of Energy, which the Department shall use as the official EPA MPG listing to compute the cost of fuel for the life of the vehicle. All Offerors shall use the latest issue of the Federal EPA MPG listing, which is available from the local U. S. Department of Energy Office.
  - 5. The total cost of energy efficiency through life cycle costing shall be computed by dividing the 100,000 total miles by the Federal City Driving EPA city MPG rating and multiplied this amount by $3.00 (the approximate cost of fuel) multiplied by the number of units which shall be added to the total cost of the vehicle, to arrive the total evaluated bid price. In computing the total evaluated bid price, Offerors shall compute the cost to two decimal places.

All Offerors shall insert their own Federal EPA (city) MPG rating and complete the computation; however, the Department shall confirm the computation accuracy.

In the event the Offeror’s vehicle performance rating has been filed with the U.S. Department of Energy, but is missing or omitted from the latest publication, the Offeror shall submit with his offer his factory certificate, certifying that the vehicle's performance rating is on file with the Department of Energy and submit the performance rating. Failure to comply with the requirements herein shall be sufficient cause for rejection of offer.

In case of an error in extending the unit bid price, the unit bid price shall govern. In the event of an error in computing the total cost of energy efficiency through life cycle costing; the computation procedure under (5) above shall govern.

B. LOWEST RESPONSIBLE OFFEROR. Award will be made to the responsible, responsive Offeror whose vehicle complies with the specifications herein, in the following order of priorities:

6. To the Offeror with the lowest total evaluated bid price which includes the total cost of the vehicle and the total gasoline mileage cost for the approximate life of the vehicle.
7. In the event the Offeror bidding on the total evaluated price (total cost of the vehicle and total gasoline mileage cost for the approximate life of the vehicle), competes with an Offeror who is unable to furnish substantiating data to compute the total evaluated bid price, preference shall be given to the Offeror submitting the total evaluated bid price.
8. In the event all Offerors are unable to bid on the total evaluated bid price, award will be made to the Offeror offering the lowest unit bid price of the cost of the vehicle.
9. The contract amount of any contract awarded shall be the amount of the bid offered on the vehicle only and shall not include the total gasoline mileage cost for the approximate life of the vehicle.

C. In the event that the low Offeror is the same for more than one of the vehicles, a single contract will be made for the applicable vehicles.

D. Additionally, General Terms 3.2 shall apply to any award, as amended herein.

E. The Department reserves the right to increase, decrease, or modify the quantity of the any item and enter into a contract in accordance with available funds. Should the quantity of any item be increased, the contract shall be entered into at the same unit price(s) in the offer and under the same terms and conditions specified herein. Further, should the quantity of any item be changed and a contract is entered into according to available funds, any loss of anticipated profit or any expenses incurred by the Offeror as a result of submitting an offer shall not constitute grounds for equitable adjustment of any payment.
